Re: Visit to Dermatology Clinic April 17

Dear Doctor,

I read in the South China Morning Post July 31 that nurses at the Prince of Wales Hospital had attempted to stop visitors from entering already on March 10 only to be overruled by their superiors.

I wish your nurse dealing with me on April 17 would have displayed the same level of common sense as her Prince of Wales Hospital colleagues.

Reading that SCMP article reminded me that I have not had a reply to my April 26 letter bringing my experience to your attention and suggesting that you might wish to institute changes.

I am therefore attaching a copy of that letter herewith and sending a copy to the Hospital Authority which may have an interest given their investigation by a review panel set up to look into the handling of the Sars outbreak.

May I please have a reply to my April 26 letter and an appointment at your earliest convenience?

Best regards,

Jens M. Salling
